Alleghany Fire Damage $150,000, Estimate

Business Section Is Gutted By Flames

Fire ravaged Alleghany is today making plans for buliding a better and bigger city.

The damage, estimated by Fred Conner, manager of the Nevada County Lumber company, who visited Alleghany Wednesday afternoon, after the conflagration had spent itself, will run to $150,000 including stocks of goods and furnishings.

FIFTEEN BUILDINGS DESTROYED

Fifteen buildings were destroyed including five residences, two hotels and nine business houses.

The properties burned, follow:

Hawkins store.
Frank Davies store.
Green's hotel and annex.
Sierra club.
P. G. & E. office.
Phoenix hotel.
Ponticelli place.
Two soft dring shops.
Two Carl Johnson houses.
Two Chinese homes.
Dr. W. B. Hardie, office and residence.
H. R. McDougal residence.
William Goggin residence and barber shop.
Dick Payinich, restaurant.

Little insurance was carried owing to the high rate charged.

SAVED SCORES OF LIVES

Scores of people attribute the fact that they are alive today, to the providential arrival of William Moulton, who left Nevada City late Tuesday evening and arrived in Alleghany about 2 o'clock Wednesday morning, in time to see the flames ed a dozen sleeping miners, by breakstarting in Alleghany hotel. He arosing into their rooms and soon the town was awake to the menace of the flames.

Heroic efforts of volunteer firemen prevented the fire from spreading more than it did, but in the business section the fire was out of all control before any effective fighting force could be organized.

INCENDIARISM CHARGED

S. Lee Leiter, Nevada City merchant, who visited the devastated mining town Wednesday afternoon, states that the damage is far more than he conceived before seeing it. He states that everyone believes the fire was of incendiary origin. Evidence of this lies in the fact that one fire, carefully set, was discovered in time to put it out.

KEROSENE SOAKED WOOD

Jeff Caserly reported to investigating officers that a pile of wood near his house had been soaked with kerosene, and fire was also reported in the shed of Pete Yori, whose wife heard the noise in the shed and taking a gun, chased the intruder, presumably a firebug, out of the shed and put out the fire.

Ray Hawkins, whose big store was completely destroyed, along the postoffice and all postal supplies, stamps, etc., is already planning the construction of the new building, and in the meantime has moved into Casey block, which, in th ewestern part of town, escaped destruction.

POSTOFFICE BURNS

Hawkins has arranged for the immediate shipment of a supply of merchandise from Nevada City, and as postmaster, has arranged with Postmaster Phil Scadden of this city for such supplies as are needed to resume functioning of the Alleghany postoffice. The office will be removed temporarily to the Ferrier residence.

Only a few hours and the fire had spent itself, the Pacific Telephone manager, was able to reestablish telephone communication with the outside world.

The manager of the Pacific Gas & Electric company, Fred Devley, restored electric service, within an hour or two after the fire was out.

The water supply was abundant but equipment proved inadequate, but even as poor as it was, it was used to save buildings that otherwise would have been destroyed. The water comes from a big spring near the road that leads into Alleghany. It is pumped into two large tanks on the hillside above the city. The town is equipped with an ancient hose cart that is reported once to have been discarded by Nevada City.

ONE MAN SERIOUSLY HURT

Alleghany thus far is taking care of its own victims of the fire. But one person was seriously hurt, J. Rockwell, a miner in the Sixteen to One mine. He could not get through the smoke filled halls of the Alleghany hotel and leaped from a second story window in the rear to the steep hillside below. His spinal column was reported broken and he was brought to a hospital in Grass Valley.

Dr. Hardie, recounting to Horace Curnow, the apprehension of an incendiary fire, under which the town had been living for sometime, stated that Wednesday morning, he felt so uneasy that he arose from bed about one o'clock and surveyed the little city from his porch. Satisfied that there was no immediate danger he went back to bed, only to be aroused two hours later. He managed to save his instruments and some of his medical supplies, but little else.

HYDRANTS TOO HOT

Warnings of incendiary fire had been accumulating, according to other residents. Back porches and woodsheds, mysteriously soaked in kerosene had been discovered in one or two instances.

Later reports indicated that the city had a sufficient supply of water for fire fighting but the firemen had been unable to hook the hose onto fire hydrants because the hottest part of the fire was where the hydrants stood. One of these was almost opposite the Alleghany hotel where the first big blaze started.

Sheriff Johnson and District Attorney McMahon of Sierra county are making a thorough investigation of the causes of the fire.

THIEVES RAID HIGHGRADE IN ORIENTAL MINE

A robbery paralelling the raid upon the Sixteen to One mine two years ago, occured in the Oriental mine at Alleghany a few hours proceeding the fire which wiped out the business section of that city.

Between shifts it is believed two or three thieves entered the Oriental mine, Tusday evening and made a safe get-away with gold ore valued at anywhere from $25,000 to $75,000.

This ore had been left in the drift just as it had been shot down several days ago, as an exhibit to the certain stockholders and directors of the company. All the robbers had to do was to slip in and fill their sacks with the broken rock and make their escape.

It is believed that the thieves used the tunnel of the mine for their exit and under these circumstances they would be able to carry from 75 to 100 pounds per man.

When the jewelry chute was broken open by the lucky blast last week on the 1300-foot level, L. L. Farnum, superintendent of the Oriental, summoned several stockholders and the consulting engineer, Bert Austin, to view the strike.

Sheriff W. D. Johnson of Sierra County was immediately notified of the robbery and began an investigation.

Six Men Sluice Gravel At Indian Hill Mine

The Indian Hill gravel property near Camptonville is sluicing gravel and making good progress.

A crew of six men are employed at the mine.

O. W. Crane of Pasadena is in charge of operations.

PROSPECTOR FINDS 1844 TWO BIT PIECE

John T. Ray, while working the gravel of the Yuba river about ten miles north of Nevada City a few days ago, found an 1844 silver quarter in fine condition. The 49'er, panning for gold, probably never missed it.

The water is still too high to work the streams very well, according to Ray.

There are about eleven men and four women near his camp, all waiting for the water to subside.

MAY SETS PEAK FOR TRAFFIC VIOLATIONS

Judge Oscar E. Winburn, Grass Valley Justice of the Peace, this afternoon turned into the office of County Clerk R. N. McCormack $430, for May, the largest amount ever turned in from his court in any one month.

This entire sum was collected in fines from traffic offenders. In addition to this was another $20, assessed against a violator of the state wage laws, making $450 in all.

The contributors to this traffic violation fund were as follows:

RIDGE ROAD, SAN JUAN TO ALLEGHANY, IS OPEN

What is known as the Ridge Road from North San Juan to Alleghany has been cleared of the snow and ice and is now open to travel.

On normal years this road is open by the middle of April, but late snows this year blocked the roads until the present time.

Tihs road is not so steep as the Foots road and motorists can make better time although the Ridge route is a longer drive.

The road to Bowmans Lake from Grass Valley is still closed by snow and it is thought it will not be open much before the 15th of June. Snow to a considerable depth is still on the road which will take time to remove.

DEATH CALLS FATHER OF MRS. WILLOUGHBY

Elsie Willoughby returned Tuesday evening from Mendocino county where she had been called by the death of her father, John F. Peterson.

Mr. Peterson was formerly a ship builder and lumberman.

His wife passed away twenty one years ago. He leaves to mourn his passing four daughters and three sons.

He had been in business in Mendocino City for many years retiring only a few years ago, and holding the respect and esteem of his fellow citizens through the long years of his life.

Ben F. Howe leaves this week for his lookout station near Auburn. He was with the Tahoe National Forest for years as lookout on Banner Mountain, and is now in the employ of the state.

H. A. Van Horn, of Alleghany was a Nevada City visitor Monday.

IDAHO MARYLAND CUTS A STATION

The Idaho-Maryland Mines Company, of Grass Valley, has followed the foot-wall of its big vein to the 850 foot level, cut a station and is opening up satisfactory values, according to Superintendent Albert Crase.

This vein was first opened on the 1950 foot level and a raise was made to determine ore values.

Indications are that it is the vein that outcrops at the surface and will be the point from which a new shaft will be sunk before the end of the year.

One 422 horsepower transformer is being installed to replace two smaller ones, since the maintenance of the larger unit is not so expensive.

WORK STARTS ON RAGON CLAIMS

An important new development in the Nevada City area, further stimulating the boom in mining activity hereabouts is the announcement by West Mines Corporation of the immediate opening of the Ragon claims two and a half miles northwest of the city. The work is being undertaken by the Comstock Goldpoint Mines company, under a working agreement with West Mines, owners of the option, the latter retaining material interests in the company.

The Ragon property is on the extension of the famous Merrifield vein, which brought the Champion group of mines a production of over $20,000,000, and is essentially a virgin stretch of ground in the quartz field. A shaft 170 feet deep was sunk in 1870 but work lapsed shortly thereafter and the shaft caved. It was cleaned out and sampled in 1915, when a mill run of samples indicated that the mine already has exposed a considerable tonnage of ore that can be profitably mined.

Work of repairing and unwatering the old shaft is expected to require only a few weeks' time and since the claim is close to all supplies and power, progress is expected to be rapid. Ore produced in the early development will be handled by the West Mines Queen Lil mill.

Orlando McCraney is to be in charge of the development, with G. Bettles acting as consulting engineer and installation of an adequate plant is to be begun at once.

GOLD FINDING EASY FOR THIS DOOHINKY

Dr. Elmer W. Ellsworth, technical director of Western Geophysical service, was a visitor in the Nugget office yesterday. He explained the new method of charting gravel deposits by means of the magnetometer, a comparatively new device for ascertaining mineral deposits and their extent beneath their overburden.

While the magnetometer will not indicate whether gravels and mineralized sands contain gold or not, any deposit containing iron, copper, or other minerals responding to magnetic influence, can be detected and with some of these gold and silver is often associated.

By means of this instrument, Mr. Ellsworth states, surveys have been made successfully of old channel beds, beneath overburdens of 150 feet in depth or more. One survey, tracing a copper mineralized belt across the state of Wisconsin was made some years ago, though there were few indications of this belt upon the surface.

Mr. and Mrs. Charles Genasci had as week end guests, Mrs. Morris Eustis, John Eustis, Mrs. John Ramsey, Will Ramsey, Mrs. E. E. Scott and Willard Scott of Sacramento and Mrs. Julia Frezzie of Larkspur.

Driver Killed When Car Skids On Curve

Noah H. Winkles of Grass Valley was killed yesterday afternoon at 3 o'clock when misjudging the sharp turn on the Ramshorn curve on the Downieville road his car skidded and catapulted over the bank and into Ramshorn creek. The scene of the tragedy is five miles this side of Downieville.

The car ,turning over several times finally wedging between the bridge abutment and a tree in the creek, was completely demolished and burst into flames.

Winkles was extricated alive, after the flames reached him, but was unconscious and died without regaining consciousness. He had delivered a load of poultry in Downieville and was returning when the accident happened.

The body was taken to Downieville where arrangements will be made for conveying it to Grass Valley where interment will take place. It is probable that an inquest will be held there.

The unfortunate man is survived by a wife and eight children.

TO MARK GRAVE OF PIONEER INVENTOR

The Womans Civic Improvement Club has succeeded in locating the grave of E. E. Matteson in Pine Grove cemetery through the courtesy of Warren Kitts and Mrs. Mattie Reynolds. It proposed to erect a commemorate marker at the grave.

As announced recently Mr. Matteson is the inventor of the first hydraulic nozzle. Recognition of his service to this section will be secured by the Woman's Civic club and others interested. Definite action will be taken during the fall session of club work.

Matteson is credited with being the first to lead water from a high point of storage down a pipe line and hose to a nozzle which threw a powerful stream of water against the mountainsides for hydraulic mining. Some say his first hose was made by an old sea captain who used sail canvas for the hose.

Matteson, like many other pioneer, made money and lost it. The last few years of his life were spent working around the county hospital for his keep.

C. C. C. ARMY TO BUILD PLUMBAGO ALLEGHANY ROAD

A road of great value to mines in the Alleghany district is to start within a few days when 256 men are to begin work on a road from Alleghany to Plumbago Ridge, under the auspices of the Civilian Concervation Corps camp, which will be located at Miller's ranch, seven miles below Alleghany on the Ridge road.

This road will cross Kanaka Creek near the El Dorado mine. By means of this road the Plumbago, Irelan, Oroflame, Gold Canyon, and Twin Sisters gold mines will be connected with more important mining centers. The new route will also give a direct cross-country road into the Graniteville district where the most outstanding mine will be the Spanish.

HOGE MINE AND LAVA CAP IN NEW OFFICE

The office of two mines, the Hoge Development Company and Lava Cap, located at 310 Broad street, was opened last week for their usual business affairs.

They rent the building from Mrs. Lottie Seaman and it has been completely renovated and remodeled.

One of the main rooms in the Hoge home on Pine street.

Dick Goyne of the Miner's Foundry visited Alleghany Tuesday, going up to view the ruins of the big fire.

YUBA GOLD CORP. IS DRIFT MINING AT FOSTER BAR

The Yuba Gold Corporation is now drifting in its Foster Bar mine at Washington, east of Nevada City, until completion of its initial financing, when it expects to start hydraulic mining at the rate of 150,000 cubic yards a year, according to E. B. Palmer, treasurer of the company.

The Foster Bar comprises 260 acres of ground extending for three-quarters of a mile along the South Fork of the Yuba river. It was acquired last summer from the South Yuba Mining company and since then has been worked as a drift mine.

Engineers estimate that 5,906.660 cubic yards of gravel, averaging 33 cents a yard, is available.

J. I. Zook, former treasurer of Montgomery Ward and Company, is the president, vice president, is F. A. Beauchamp; C. B. Jutte, is Treasurer, and Palmer complete the board of directors.

HIGH SCHOOL '33 "QUILL" JUST OUT

The 1933 Quill is out. The Nugget, which this year had the printing contract, beat the time limit by several days, and joy filled the hearts of the student body yesterday afternoon when the books were delivered .

The cover color scheme of silver and red makes this edition of the annual high school book one of the most striking of the long series of volumnes issued there.

The Quill staff upon whom devolved the duty of gathering the material and editing this volume consists of:

Ruth Rector .....Editor-in-Chief
Dolly Jefferson....Assistant Editor
Bob Tucker.....Business Manager
Bob Tamblyn....Assistant Manager
Dorothy Worthley..... Historian
Angiolina Alaria ....Alumni Editor
Katherine Celio.....Society Editor
Charles Barker.....Art Editor

Helen Arbogast.....Girls' Athletics
Gove Celio.....Boys' Athletics
Carolyn Towle,.....Beth Curnow
Estelle Yokum, Esther Reader....
Typists

L. E. Sweeney, Miss Fischer and H. E. Kjorlie, Advisors.

The hand colored illustrations prefacing the various school departments and activities are especially notable in reflecting the high standard achieved in the high school's art classes. Poor Lo from infancy, in wampum decked baskets, to old age and the peace pipe, form the decorative motif.

A poem: "Nevada City," written by Carolyn Towle of the senior class, expresses the view of the old-timers regarding the romance that once characterized this pioneer city.

Half tones throughout the book are of excellent character, and embrace a wide range of subjects. Members of the school board, the staff of the Quill, the school faculty, the senior class, group pictures of other classes, and pictures of buildings, Campus and sports activities are uniformly well chosen and well printed.

Dr. C. W. Chapman of Nevada City delivered a memorial address in commemoration of members of Native Sons ,who have died, in Memorial hall, Grass Valley, last Monday before the Fred H. Greely Assembly, No. 6, Past Presidents Association, N. S. G. W.

BUSINESS IS BETTER

"How's business?" Optimistic replies to this stock inquiry of the past three years seem to have some foundation in fact at the present time, in the opinion of California editors.

Nation-wide reports, they admit, point to an upward trend in prices for farm commodities, increased shipping, higher wages and re-employment of many thousands.

Stating there may be something more in the reports than just another effort to stiffen the backbone of Mr. Public, the Berkeley Daily Gazette adds:

"There are signs, too, right in our own neighborhood, that cannot be put aside as meaningless. For instance, there has been a falling off in demands on our county charity funds, something that hasn't occurred in a long time and is certainly significant of an improvement in employment."

As another favorable sign, according to the Riverside Daily Press, "business on the Great Lakes freight lines, quite clearly, is better than it was last year at this time. And you might remember that these lake steamers carry those bulk commodities—coal, iron ore and grain—whose movement is the very backbone of the nation's business. If this improvement continues, a good deal of optimism will be justified."

"The expected upturn in general business," comments the Orange Daily News, "with increasing purchasing power in the eastern markets, must be realized before any general advance in citrus prices can be expected, but it is apparent that the industry is in position to take advantage of improved condions. These factors make for a justified optimism."

And, remarks the Lindsay Gazette, "the orange grower will be able to borrow some money on his prospective cash. The bureau of agriculture is making that effective at once. Relief to the rancher is here—the country is up-grade. We'll all have money one of these days. Wouldn't it do some of us good to have the bankers begging us to take their money?

According to the Oroville Mercury-Register, "once the vicious circle of depression is broken everything adds to business rather than subtracting from it as in the past. With everyone buying supplies factories are at work and payrolls are expanded so that more can buy the supplies newly placed on the shelves. The fact that almost everyone is low in supplies will add to the rush of business."

"The pendulum swings slowly ,of course," said the Visalia Times-Delta. "The effects of four years of disaster cannot be wiped out overnight. But there are good reasons for believing that the swing back in the right direction has actually commenced, and that if we are not yet out of the woods we are at least getting to the point where a little more sunlight filters down through the branches overhead. If we can just keep from getting jittery we ought to make out all right. There is no sense, of course, in denying that some things look very discomforting. But unless we permit ourselves to get scared out of our senses, we ought to be able to find the right road and stay on it."

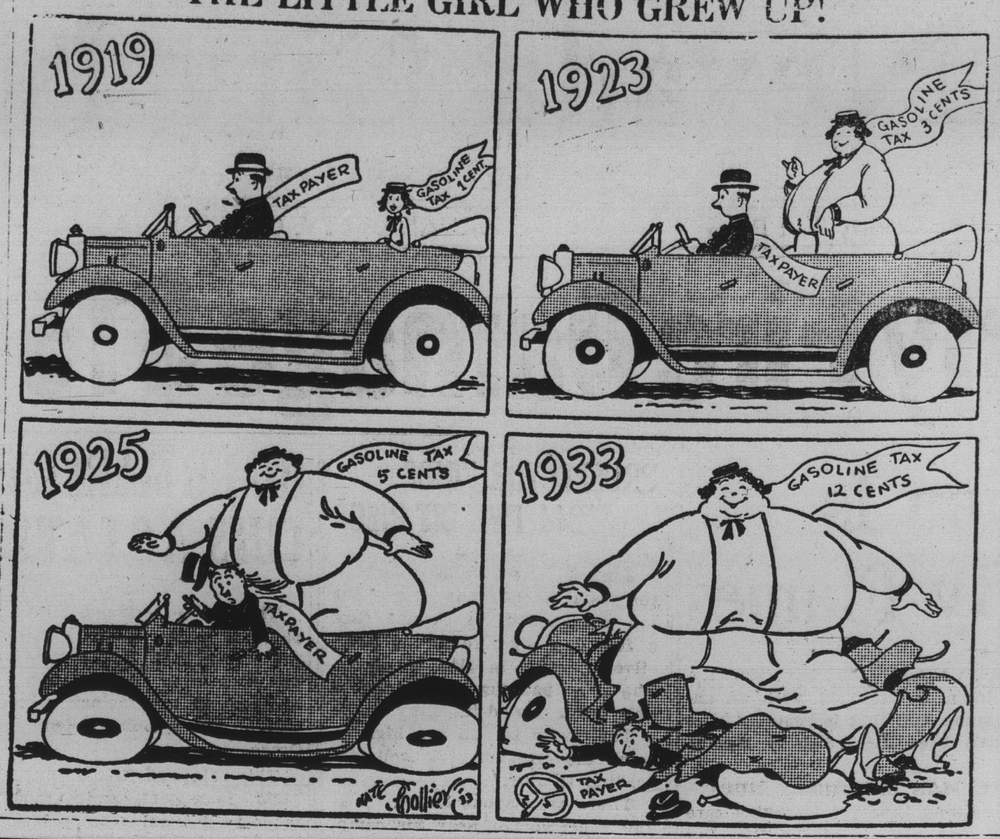
THE LITTLE GIRL WHO GREW UP!



THE PAY STREAK

By H. M. L.

The business district of Alleghany, along with several homes, laid in ashes by an incendiary!

Some vengeful human being, or cracked-brain, busy in the dark hours after midnight, starts a blaze that costs a community $150,000 and threatens a horrible death to scores of sleeping people.

And a few hours prior to this dastardly outrage, the Oriental mine is robbed of gold ore valued anywhere from $25,000 to $75,000.

Two major crimes within the short time of 12 hours, committed in a little community of some 400 or 500 people!

Years of planning and building destroyed in the twinkling of an eye.

Unless the American people learn some method of protecting themselves against the destroyers, big criminals and little criminals, our civilization will fall, as surely as every other civilization has fallen.

The great cities of the country, riddled and raddled with vice and crime. Yesterday's paper reciting a horrible crime on the beautiful Stanford campus.

Must this country eventually be forced to the drastic action of early California days? Must law abiding citizens organize in extra legal association to deal out rough handed justice to those who kill, main, burn, cheat, steal and rob?

Is the greed of the Morgans and the Mitchells—a greed that makes 120,000,000 million people suffer—never to be sated, never to be halted?

These are questions that arise when one thinks of the double blow that has been dealt the little sister city of Alleghany on the Mother Lode. Two crimes for which scores and hundreds must suffer.

Crime stalking through the country, checked to be sure here and there, sporadically, but nevertheless rolling onward like a prairie fire.

YELLOW JACKET GETS READY FOR PRODUCTION

The Yellow Jacket Consolidated Gold Mines, Ltd., of Alleghany, is rapidly approaching production from both the Yellow Jacket and Osceola mines.

On these properties, which adjoin the famous old Sixteen-to-One, the new plant is in operation.

Sinking is being continued at the Osceola with the object of driving on the vein to connect with the main Yellow Jacket tunnel at a further depth of 100 feet.

There is a ten stamp mill, electrically driven, on the property, the mine being fully equipped with mining machinery for operation.

Charles E. Trezona of Los Angeles is president of the company.

GOVERNOR VETOES BILLS

SACRAMENTO, June 1—(UP)—State officials—particularly Director of Finance Rolland Vandegrift—the governor's advisers and the governor himself these days are subjecting bills passed by the legislature to intense investigation and scrutiny.

As a direct restult, a day hardly passes but what the governor vetoes anywhere from one to five bills.

The exectuive department has turned up several bills which, it was claimed, might be construed to mean that the state loses control of tidelands. One of these has already been vetoed and others are to receive the same fate.

CAMPTONVILLE, May 1—H. C. Windell and party passed through town a few days enroute to Halkyard mine from Indian Valley; they will remain there working at the mine.

Mr. and Mrs. O. W. Crane motored to Nevada City Friday on a short business visit.

SOMETHING IN A NAME

LOS ANGELES —(UP)— Police have two "birds" in the Lincoln Heights jail. Roy Crow and Gerald Crane were arrested for throwing a brick through the window of a bird store.

CAMPTONVILLE, May 31—A memorial funeral service was held Tuesday afternoon at the local Masonic Hall for Thomas Jackson Byrd under the auspices of Gravel Range Lodge No. 59 F. & A. M. and the ashes of this esteemed old Mason were buried in the family plot in teh local cemetery. Bryd was one of the oldest Masons in the state, having been a member for almost 60 years, and being 98 years of age when he passed away in November at the Masonic Home. The regular Masonic funeral service was conducted by Fred J. Joubert, Worshipful Master of the local lodge and Inspector of tihs district. The following euology written by Acton M. Cleveland was read at the service. A number of friends and brethern of the lodge attended the servic.

By ACTON M. CLEVELAND

THOMAS JACKSON BYRD was born in Lumpkin county, Georgia on March 29,1835, and was a member of a family of considerable money and prominence. He sepnt his childand prominence. He spent his childhe decided to start west called by the lure of gold, and a youthful heart longing for adventure. His first stop in California was Coloma, where he spent one winter, and then journeyed to Yuba county, where he spent practically the remaining part of his life.

His life was characterized by and played a prominent part in the community life of this secion. He was one of those sturdy pioneers, a student and lover of the great out of doors, his natural life with sunshine and hard work, giving him a long, useful, and healthful life. Like most all the pioneers, he followed the quest for gold, for many years of his life worked creek and ravine for the ever sought for yellow dust.

At the age of 38 he became interested in the Order of Free and Accepted Masons, and on January 20, 1873 took the first degree, on April 14, 1873 was passed to the Fellow Craft Degree, and on June 30, 1873 became a Master Mason. He was an ardent member of this lodge, and took a prominent part in all its affairs. He kept interested and versed in the ritualistic work, and could fill many posts in the lodge, even up to his old age. Many times during his last few years in this section, he walked seven miles to attend lodge. His spirit and work in Masonry, mainly a desire and opportunity to be of service to his fellowmen is well of imitation and repetition, and he stands as a fitting example to the younger Masons. He was a Mason for what it meant to him and what he could do for others, and not just for the privilege of wearing the pin. He was a Mason such as you read about in the early California Mining Sections, such men as those whose names are engraved upon monuments today.

And so he was a Mason such also was he a good citizen and always took a part in the civil welfare of the community. He, being a man of southern ideals, carried out his views and held up his principles, and had the respect of all who knew him.

In old age a sin youth he maintained those characteristics which made him an admirable man. Being alone in the world, and realizing the possibilities of old age infirmities, he decided to become a resident of the Masonic Home and upon taking his residence there, he became a favorite of his brethern there, and unlike most humanity under like conditions ,was appreciative and thankful for what this great fraternity had furnished him, and spent the last few remaining years of his life in health and joy.

He passed away at the Masonic Home at Decoto on November 1, 1932 and services were held and his body cremated at Oakland. No better time could be selected than this beautiful Memorial day, when we as friends and brothers take a few moments from our daily work to gather here in this historic old lodge room to conduct this service. Our lodge was his lodge, and his lodge was his rule of life, his religion. In it he had his faith, from it he received his inspiration.

At one time during his life, some of his wealthy relatives in Virginia sent for him, making a very attractive offer to make him wealthy should he return to his home, but he turned the offer down, having learned to love the west, and deciding to spend the rest of his life among the whispering pines, and so today, my friends, we gather to pay our last respect to our venerable brother and fellow citizen, and to repose his ashes in the sacred ground which he loved, over which the whispering pines, and gentle zephyrs with the fragrance of ever blooming wild flowers with cherished memories forever more.

NORTH SAN JUAN
Mrs. F. M. HARRIS

NORTH SAN JUAN, May 30—A very familiar face will be missed from the streets of San Juan, now that Fremont Wood has passed on.

He had been very poorly most of the winter as the result of an attack of the "flu" and died at the home of Henry Huckins on May 24th. He was born in Sweetland 73 years ago and spent most of his long life in and around San Juan. Bile Stagnates In Sluggish Livers and Makes Us Sick
Unless your liver furnishes plenty of fresh bile every day your food does not digest properly—it just ferments and decays in the bowels—constipation, gas, sour stomach, headaches, nervousness, etc., are the result.
Sargon Soft Mass Pills relieve the cause of this condition. They are not like any medicine you have ever taken (write for free literature describing their action and effects). Don't be misled. Calomel, salts, mineral waters, laxative pills, etc., have no effect on the liver. Sargon Soft Mass Pills contain the only two substances which will actually cause a sluggish liver to increase its production of bile.

ROLPH TO VETO SALARY CUT BILL

SACRAMENTO, June 1—(UP)—Groundwork for renewal of the battle between the executive and legislative branches of state ogvernment is being laid day by day as Governor Rolph continues to exercise his veto on bills dear to legislators hearts.

Unless the legislature reverses its attitude, it will override some of the Rolph vetoes at the mid-summer session. Three vetoes of Mendocino county government bills were overriden before the May recess—the first time such a thing had occurred in over 40 years.

Disregarding the fate of these three measures, the governor vetoed three more county government bills, affecting Calaveras county, without even consulting their author.

At this writing, Rolph is set to veto the state employes' salary reduction bill which would save California $5,000,000 in the next biennium. There is ample evidence to indicate an atempt may be made to pass this measure over the executive's disapproval.

The oleo mararine bill will probably feel the axe, and, possibly, the bill withdrawing from automobile clubs the authority of placing state highway signs. These two and many others may provide the spark to fan the flames of dissension between the governor and the legislature.

Director of Finance Rolland A. Vandegrift's opposition to the Riley-Stewart tax revision plan has intensified the antagonism against him of the state controller's and the board of equalization's offices. Vandegrift contends passage of the revision program would mean a 20 per cent ad valorem tax and would incerase the state's deficit by $20,000,000.

The unusual situation of a split state cabinet on a major issue continues . . . Earl Lee Kelly, director of public works opposes gas tax diversion . . . his chief, the governor, and Vandegrift strongly favor it . . the governor's attitude toward granting clemency to doomed slayers is changing . . . the other day during a commutation hearing he announced "I do not propose to be regarded as a Wishy Washy governor . . . Director of Institutions Dr. J .M. Toner who must give up his job, learned the other day he cannot be demoted to assume charge of a state mental hospital . . . three years' prior service in an insane hospital is necessary and Toner can't qualify.

CANON SALUTES FOR GOVERNORS

SACRAMENTO, June 1—(UP)—Governor Rolph intends that the arrival in Sacramento of governors attending the National Governors' conference in California next July shall be a momentous event.

First there will be a 19 gun salute for each of the visiting governors. Then, as the visiting executives walk into the capitol grounds, they will see a bed or red, white and blue flowers which spells out the following: "Three Cheers for the Good Old U. S. A."

The governor instructed the capitol gardener, William Vortriede, to proceed at once to plant the "Good Old U. S. A." bed.

Unable to repaint the capitol building, in honor of the event, the governor plans to summon the Sacramento fire department which will give the huge structure a thorough bath.

COUNTIES CUT HEALTH COSTS

By THOMAS B. MALARKEY

SACRAMENTO, June 1—(UP)—The pinch of depression impelled 38 of California's 58 counties to economize some of them quite drastically—on their outlay for county conservation of health.

MALARKEY

A detailed report issued by the state controller's office reveals that health conservation— this includes eradication of diesease carriers, health officers' salaries, contagious disease control and other expenses—cost $4,331,335.60 in 1932. The preceding year the county health bill was $5,329,932.93.

Twenty counties found it possible last year to increase their county health expenditures over 1931. They included Calaveras, Glenn, Imperial, Lake, Marin, Mendocino, Mono, Monterey, Orange, Plumas, San Bernardino, San Joaquin, Shasta, Sierra, Sonoma, Stanislaus, Trinity and Yolo counties.

Nevada county's outlay for 1932 was $1,291. In 1931, this county expended for the same purpose the sum of $1,889.

Pending proposals of tax revision will have a drastic effect on county expenditures if the people approve the proposals at the June 27 special election. Outstanding proposition affecting counties is that which would relieve the counties of payment of $37,000,000 annually for the county arbitrary matching school cost requirements of $30 for elementary schools and $60 for the high school pupils per pupil in average daily attendance.

The trend of legislation which will probably result in a new tax set-up at the mid-summer session is for real porperty relief. The state would assume a large share of the tax burden now borne by real property thus relieving individual counties to a marked extent. However, counties could not increase their expenditures on other governmental functions in proportion to the amount they are relieved by virtue of the state assuming the school charges. A provision in the tax revision program which will be on the ballot June 27 limits county governmental cost increase to five per cent annually for the forthcoming two years.

EAR COST $750.00

JACKSON, Cal., June 1—(UP)—Allen French learned the other day that his ear was worth, in the view of a jury, $750.

Frank Horton has chewed off a portion of French's ear during a fight. French brought suit for damages asking $30,000.

But the jury, after hearing the details of the embroglio, awarded a verdict of only $j46.50—$64.50 for doctor's bills; $32 for hospital charges and $750 general damages.

Mrs. Frank Colvin and Mrs. Keys of Grass Valley visited relatives and friends in Nevada City Tuesday.

JUNE GRADUATES TO SWELL ARMY OF UNEPLOYED

Sacramento, June 1, (UP)— California soon will have another unemployment problem to solve.

June will see the graduation of an army of public school students estimated by Vierling Kersey, state superintendent of public instruction, to total more than 55,000.

"Extraordinary efforts in behalf of these young people will be conditions arising from a glutted labor market. It is a bread and butter problem which parents, employers, society and government must share if youth is to continue its forward march," Kersey warned.

According to records of the state department of education, high school graduates will number 47,700, while 3,850 will be graduated from junior colleges, an additional 1,100 will leave state colleges and about 3,000 will complete University of California courses.

"Youth has a greater need for stabilizing influences now than ever before," Kersey said. "If prospects for gainful employment for all are not bright at this time, the responsibility of adulthood is the greater for that reason.

"The graduate army is marching into the world with less chance of reinforcement from family budgets than for many years. It is emerging into a world where middle-aged complacency is more concerned with budgets of dollars than with budgets of human values. Yet youth is the impressionable stage of life when ideals loom large and are vitally important.

"They should be kept from despair and self-pity and should not be nagged because of their failure to find jobs. The period of dependency of young people has been tremendously prolonged in recent years."

Pointing out that 80,000 boys and young men now are wandering homeless and jobless in the state, the superintendent cautioned that graduates who cannot be fitted immediately into commercial or industrial life should be kept at home less they succumb to the national disease of wanderlust.

FRENCH CORRAL

MRS. KATE M. SULLIVAN

FRENCH CORRAL, May 31—Well, it isn't safe to bet on the weather this year, After several days of from 90 degrees to 96 degrees in the shade it has suddenly turned cool and tonight is really chilly.

Stockmen are moving their herds from the foot hills to the mountain regions.

Vacation has come for our French Corral school Wednesday the 24th, having ended the term for 1932-33. After a short program in the afternoon, Miss O'Connor served the pupils and visitors with ice cream and cake.

Rev. Father O'Reilly held services in Birchville Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. G. Sherwood spent several days visiting with relatives recently. Mrs. Sherwood is a native of French Corral and here all her early life was spent at the home of her parenth, the late Mr. and Mrs. A. R. Dalberg and wife.

Mr. and Mrs. Clifford Olives of Santa Rosa spent several days visiting with relatives recently.

Mrs. J. Merchant and Miss Edith Benedict of Los Angeles spent a few days visiting their relative, G. Maddock, who is in charge of the French Corral mine. They were quite charmed with our beautiful country.

Mr. and Mrs. Harold Osgood of Bangor were visitors on Memorial Day. Mrs. Osgood is a native of French Corral. She has been teaching school at Bangor for the past eight years.

Mr. and Mrs. Herbert Clymo and their son Frank of Benecia, were week end visitors at the home of Mrs. Clymois sister, Mrs. W. E. Moulton.

Arthur O'Connor of San Rafael spent the week end at the family home in Birchville .

Mr. and Mrs. Earl Chatly and two sons and Mr. Chatty's mother of San Francisco were visitors at the home of Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Culver for the past week.

Mrs. B. Maddock and daughter, Miss Helene, and son, Hardy, of Los Angeles are visiting with Mr. Maddock.

Mr. and Mrs. L. Dudley and Miss Frances Moulton spent Memorial Day in French Corral.

Mrs. A. Browning spent sereral days with friends in Nevada City.

Fremont Woods, who passed away aat North San Juan recently, is one of the few who have been laid to rest in their native town of Sweetland. His funeral was attended by many friends.

PAYROLLS OF STATE REVEAL 9.4 INCREASE

SACRAMENTO, June 1—(UP)—Figures filed with the state division of labor statistics and law enforcement show an increase of 15.3 per cent in manufacturing employment and 9.4 per cent in payrolls for April as compared to March.

Reports received from 149 California building and construction firms show an increase of 5 per cent for the same period.

TAX DELINQUENT PENALTY IS CUT

Sacramento, June 1, (UP)—Widespread and immediate relief to overburdened taxpayers in every country of the state has been effected with the signing by Governor Rolph of the Edwards tax delinquency bill.

The measure cuts the penalties for delinquent payment of taxes on the first installment from ten to eight per cent; and on the second installment, from five to three per cent. Penalties for redemption are slashed to one per cent monthly.

Nevada county is affected beneficially. This county's tax delinquency rate for the first installment of taxes was 15 per cent representing $15,290.

"The signing of Senate Bill 86 by Senator Nelson T. Edwards offers the greatest measure of relief to the overburdened taxpayer who, because of distress or crop failures could not afford to pay their real property taxes," Governor Rolph commented.

"This bill reduces penalties for delinquent payment of taxes by four per cent of the full tax where both installments of taxes have not been paid and reduces the penalties for redemption from 17 per cent to 12 per cent annually.

"It is impossible to estimate even the approximate amount that has been wiped off the tax rolls by the signing of this bill, but a conservative estimate would mean that at least $6,000,000 will be saved to taxpayers of the state who have been unfortunate enough to have their property sold to the state for taxes."

The bill bore an urgency clause and hence became effective when the governor signed it. Senator Edwards said the urgency was justified because "large revenues will be lost to the state and the political subdivisions thereof and a large amount of taxable property will be removed from the assessment rolls unless immediate relief is provided. In order to afford this relief, and to relieve the already overburdened taxpayer, it is necessary that this act take effect immediately.

SOCIAL EVENTS

Last Meeting of Season for P. T. A.

The Parent Teachers Association has decided to hold their last meeting today, Friday, as an outdoor affair in Red Men's Park on Grove street.

Their plans call for installation of the officers who were recently elected and the work for the coming year will be mapped out.

A program has been arranged and it is expected that this will prove one of the happiest events of the year for the association.

Iit is expected that fully 200 will attend this meeting.

Transportation will be furnishea for those who have no way to get out.

Gold Flat Club Honors Mrs. Masterson

Last Thursday the members of the Gold Flat Thursday club gave Mrs. Masterson, one of their members, a delightful surprise party in appreciation of her happy entertainment of the club at Christmas time, and presented her with a dainty gift of glassware.

There were 14 members present to enjoy a happy social time and singing of familiar songs by the entire group.

Dainty refreshments were served at the close of the afternoon.

BEAR ON HIGHWAY STARTLES MOTORIST

While driving up the Tahoe-Ukiah highway just above the Five Mile House, last Sunday about noon, L. W. Clawson, of Nevada City, saw a large bear walk slowly out of the woods and onto the highway so slowly that he had to slow down his car to keep from striking him. The bear weighed fully 300 pounds, and was not in the least afraid of Mr. Clawson.

About two years ago a lone woman motorist was given a terrible scare when an immense mountain lion walked out along the road a mile or so further up. The lion was killed a few days later by Carl J. Tobiassen and friends, who trailed the lion with Tobiassen's hunting dogs and finally treed and shot it.

District Attorney W .E. Wright is about again after an illness of several days.

Pastor and Wife Are Dinner Guests

Last Wednesday evening a dinner and reception were given by the Ladies Aid Socoety in honor of Rev. and Mrs. H. H. Buckner of the Methodist church.

A delicious pot-luck supper was served to 60 who were present.

After the supper a splendid program was greatly enjoyed by all present.

The Aid Society presented Rev. and Mrs. H. H. Buckner with an eight piece set of flat Lady Hamilton pattern silverware, much to their surprise.

VISITOR DISCRIBES THE BOULDER DAM PROGRESS

Mr. and Mrs. Ray Chenoweth and child came up from Los Angeles and Boulder dam early this week and are visiting for a time with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Jack Williams.

Mr. Chenoweth who has been employed at the dam for some time states that work is away ahead of schedule and the pouring of the concrete on the dam proper will start in 30 days.

The four long diversion tunnels to divert the water of the Colorado river have been completed for some time.

Mr. Chenoweth was with the large construction company here about five years ago that built the irrigation ditch from Scotts Flat toward Grass Valley for a distance of several miles for the Nevada Irrigation district. He operated a drag line or steam shovel on the job.

Aviator is Hurt in Motor Car Collision

SACRAMENTO, June 1—(UP)—Survivor of many thrilling aerial stunts, Dana Thompson, well known aviator, landed in the hospital here as the result of an automobile accident.

En route to the local airport, Mr. Thompson's car collided with a machine parked partially on the highway. He was taken to a hospital suffering from brain concussion and numerous cuts and bruises.

Thompson, famous throughout Pacific coast states for his air stunts is operator of a flying service here.

William Lackland of North San Juan was a Nevada City visitor Wednesday.
